

HOW DO YOU LIKE IT?

Did the whistles get on your nerves at 4.30 this morning? There appears to be much confusion and much dissatisfaction. The farmers are bitter towards the clock meddlers and the action of Massachusetts is calling forth the severest condemnation. Let's keep good natured and there will likely be some good solution at an early date.

BIG ELECTRIC COMBINE IN
STATE OF MAINE

Augusta, Me., April 28.—The proposed consolidation of the Androscoggin Electric Company, the Knox County Electric Company and the Oxford Electric Company with the Central Maine Power Company, with headquarters in this city, was approved by the Public Utilities Commission. This is one of the largest hydro-electric deals that has ever taken place in Maine. The combined capitalization is $17,500,000. The commission says there may be opportunity for difference of opinion as to whether it is wise to permit a consolidation which will result in enabling one public company to occupy a large and very important part of our state. The United States relatively small hydro-electric companies into one large corporation is for the benefit of all the customers of each of the companies and is best for the state as a whole, in the commission's view.

It declares the Central Maine has been reasonably successful, has kept abreast of the times, rendered a fair quality of service and has not increased its rates for some time.

Boston, April 27.—Four Everett young men who, the police claim, are responsible for a series of holdups and robberies in Greater Boston, were arrested yesterday for larceny and highway robbery. The police state that the prisoners, who are between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one years, have confessed that they are implicated in a series of crimes committed during the past two months.

Information received from a Hanover street pawnbroker about a youth who had pawned a watch and who said he would return later to purchase a wedding ring, caused two Boston inspectors and an Everett officer to wait at the pawnbroker's where they arrested Lewis B. Curtailement the Proper Remedy.

Boston's search for new sources of revenue is of interest far beyond the bounds of that city, for practically every city in the country is under the same necessity, especially those cities in which the sale of liquor has been licensed in the past. Whether licensing the sale of liquor was, morally, right or wrong, it brought in substantial revenues wherever it was done and the money that came from that source must now be sought and found elsewhere. There must either be new forms of taxation or a burden will be placed upon real estate which it will be difficult for owners to bear unless the income from that source is correspondingly increased. And in view of the present cry about rent profiteering, what will be said when rents go still higher, as they are certain to do if the present general drift in business and industry is much longer continued?

In Boston a committee appointed by Mayor Peters to study the situation finds that the cost of labor and materials has brought the building business practically to a standstill. Some work in this line is still being done, but the conditions are growing worse all the time, the committee says, and unless relief comes soon the building of houses will become negligible.

And now comes the question as to how the city is to raise the required revenues without overburdening real estate. Revenue from liquor licenses is a thing of the past and there is not yet that easing up on the need of revenue that has been predicted and promised as one of the fruits of prohibition. At present the expenses of most cities are steadily increasing and it is up to the authorities to find the wherewith to foot the bills.

Mayor Peter's committee recommends taxes on gross sales at retail of all goods, wares and merchandise, and taxes on 47 varieties of occupation and business enterprises. The taxable list under this plan is very lengthy, and while the tax in each case would be small the aggregate would be large. A public hearing on the matter is to be held at an early date.

As before stated, Boston is not alone in the situation that has been brought about by changed conditions. Not only have expenses increased largely, but the removal of liquor revenues means, where these have been collected in the past, that new sources of taxation must be found or the old sources will have to "come across" in a way that will try the muscles of the back.

In the prosecution of the war the nation has contracted an enormous debt, and at the same time the expenditures of states and municipalities have materially increased. The spending of borrowed money has made what many have regarded as "good times," but now that pay day is approaching the people must be prepared to face the music. High taxes in one form or another will be inevitable for many years to come, and these must be paid by the people. No matter on what the taxes are levied, the final payment will be made by the people as a whole.

For this reason it is time to begin the practice of economy in the conduct of the public business. Thus far there is little evidence of a disposition to do this, but it is a step that must be taken if taxation is not to become oppressive.

PURSE OF MONEY GIVEN RETIRING PASTOR AND WIFE

Farewell Reception to Rev. and Mrs. P. W. Caswell at Court St. Church.

Pleasant indeed was the reception given at the Court Street Christian church yesterday evening, when parishioners in large numbers gathered to greet Rev. Percy Warren Caswell, who this week concluded over seven years of faithful and efficient service as pastor of that church.

The affair was planned to show the appreciation of the work of the retiring pastor, to wish him success in his new field of labor.

In recognition of the event the vestry had been arranged in a reception room, with rugs and willow furniture while all about the room were bill potted palms. The pastor adjointed where the receiving party stood was beautiful, with palms and green and white crepe paper festoons.

Rev. and Mrs. Caswell were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ham and the two young sons of the pastor and wife stood in the receiving line.

The entire affair was in charge of the Invisibile Class of the Sunday school of which Mrs. Herman J. Caswell is the teacher. The women were Misses Marjorie Gray, Dorothy Hines, Emma Weston, Hazel Tuttle, Ruth Hinn, Gertrude Ham, Ethel Miller, Myrtle Osgood, Della Ward. Four young men, Herman J. Caswell, Allen Brigham, Irving Neway and Martin L. Childs assisted the class members in this pleasing duty.

The exercises opened at eight o'clock with prayer by the Rev. John G. Beveringham, followed by a vocal solo, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," well rendered by Herman J. Caswell and which was received with hearty applause.

Rev. Lucius H. Thayer, D. D., pastor of the North Church, spoke of the earnest efforts of the retiring pastor in his church and in this community and of his larger opportunity in the larger city.

Mrs. Pearl Fox gave a humorous reading which was well received.

Rev. Elmer E. Newell, D. D., was the next speaker and he congratulated the retiring pastor on his successful work in this city, saying he had done a man's job here and it was to his credit.

Miss Marjorie Gray then pleasantly rendered "Little Grey Home in the West," receiving with deserved applause. A pleasing incident followed when Herman J. Caswell, superintendent of the Sunday School, presented the pastor's wife with a beautiful bouquet of pink and white carnations, as a tribute from the Sunday school. Mrs. Caswell having formerly been superintendent. The gift was received with evident appreciation and pleasure and Mrs. Caswell expressed her sincere thanks.

The next number on the program was a piano solo by Miss Emma Weston, who also acted as accompanist for the soloists. Miss Weston rendered the selection in a finished manner, receiving hearty applause from the gathering.

Rev. Alfred Gooding, pastor of the Unitarian church, paid a high compliment to Rev. Mr. Caswell for the work he had done in this city, both in his church and in the community. He spoke of the retiring pastor's work in the Ministerial Association of this city and vicinity, having been secretary of this organization for several years. Rev. Mr. Gooding said not only did he ably fill the position of secretary, but was ever ready to do extra work for the Association.

Secretary Leta C. Schmalzer of the Y. M. C. A. spoke of the kindly interest Rev. Mr. Caswell had shown in Y. M. C. A. work, saying that before he had ever met him personally he asked him over the phone if he would conduct a service at the Y. M. C. A. the coming Sunday. Mr. Schmalzer spoke of the ready favorable answer he received, and although a newcomer in this city, he knew he did not have to ask the pastor to know he would find in him a friend and an appreciation of the helpful spirit and the cooperation he had shown toward the local Y. M. C. A.

Rev. W. S. Woodruff, pastor of the Community Church at Atlantic Heights told of the help Rev. Mr. Caswell had been at the Heights, he having started the work there.

Deacon George H. Chapleigh in behalf of the parish, then presented Mr. Caswell with a purse of money as a gift in recognition of his faithful service and able leadership. In the years of his ministry with this church, Rev. Mr. Caswell for a moment was overcome by this expression of kindly feeling, but soon found words to reply thanking the donors for their kindly feeling and closing his remarks with "God bless you all."

Mrs. Allen then rendered "Calvary," a vocal solo, and was listened to with interest and received with applause.

An informal social time was then enjoyed and refreshments of barolo, ice cream, assorted cake and coffee. Members of the Invisibile Class acted as servers.

Rev. Mr. Caswell takes up his new duties as pastor of the Community Christian church at Manchester next Sunday. He expects to return and pass a part of the week here with his family until the last of May when the house which they are to occupy in Manchester will be ready for them.

The good wishes of the community go with Rev. Mr. Caswell in his new field of labor. During the seven years he has been pastor of the Christian church he has labored earnestly and well in his parish and has shown a fine community spirit and has been a helpful citizen. The church of which he is now to be pastor is a strong parish and there is a fine opportunity for him to do even a larger work.

The tables were invitingly arranged and the menu served included cold ham, mashed potatoes, macaroni and cheese, fancy pies, rolls and coffee. The supper was in charge of the Women's Auxiliary with Mrs. A. C. Willey in general charge. At its conclusion a

ORDER TO CUT PAY OF HELPERS AT NAVY YARD

Would Change Rating to Laborer With Difference of $1.07 in Wages.

Forty or more men employed in the Supply Department at the navy yard got something in the way of a surprise on Tuesday when they learned through correspondence from the Navy Department that an order had been issued whereby their rating of general helper was changed to that of laborer, which means a reduction of pay from $1.75 to $3.38 per diem.

The men did not take kindly to the new schedule no more than the officers did who are in charge.

So far the men are still working awaiting the result of communications from Washington. It is understood that some of them say they will seek employment elsewhere if they are not allowed to continue at the old rating and pay.

The department, it is said, has been notified as to the feelings of the men affected and what a serious drawback it will be in the progress of work. It is believed that the department will not insist on the cut and that the orders will be revoked and the matter hushed up.

Certified Milk

Is the ideal milk and is very desirable. It is reasonably safe but expensive and is not sold or produced in Portsmouth or immediate vicinity.

Farmers and dairymen know that tuberculosis occurs occasionally even in the most expensive and best cared for herds of milk cows and because of this fact many breeders of fine stock insist that calves be fed only pasteurized milk.

Should milk for children and our own consumption be less safe-guarded?

PASTEURIZED MILK IS ABSOLUTELY SAFE MILK

and is produced in Portsmouth in the most modern milk plant in New England and is sold at the same price as ordinary milk (15 cents per quart)—which our careful delivery and volume of business makes possible.

It is more profitable for us to sell the raw milk (while the health laws permit it) and the customer is indifferent, but we recommend and prefer to sell a safe and sanitary product at a loss.

We respectfully solicit your patronage and invite inspection of our plant.

CHAMBER WILL PROTEST CENSUS RETURNS

The Chamber of Commerce may make an official protest to the United States Census Bureau over the way the last census was taken. The matter will be considered at the next meeting of the Chamber executive committee.

So that they may have sufficient evidence to show the Department it is suggested that every person in this city who has not been enumerated or whose home was not visited, send their names and street address to the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, of phone 11 to the office. The Chamber of Commerce is anxious to see that Portsmouth gets its proper credit for its big growth and the only way this can be done is for everybody who thinks they have not been enumerated to inform the Secretary of the Chamber.

PLANNING A BIG SHOW

The Little Bowery Association were putting on the finishing touches on Tuesday evening for their annual minstrel show which will be held at the Portsmouth Theatre on Thursday evening. This enterprising organization has perfected a better show than ever before and they will surprise their great many friends with their 1920 offering.

MERCHANTS MAY ADOPT NEW HOURS

A canvass of the local retail merchants on Tuesday was made by the Board of the Chamber of Commerce, and it is very likely that at a meeting to be held today, that the decision to open an hour earlier and close at five o'clock will be agreed upon.

The few days of the daylight saving as it affects business, owing to the fact that all of the industries are on the new hours, convinces the merchants that it would be better to fall in line. The business men which formerly took place between five and six o'clock now come from four to five and after five there is no business whatever.

Merchants who were opposed to the early closing plan, were convinced that the business follows the working hours of the industries. At least one of the stores has a sign in the window now that the daylight saving hours are being observed.

There was an increased number of requests made on the school department on Tuesday that the daylight saving hours be observed. These requests come from the parents, who in some cases face the proposition of two or more meal hours at noon.

The effects of the early rising is apparent by the going home early at night, as men who get up at five o'clock have to get in their regular sleeping hours.

LOOKING THEM OVER WITH THE SPORT FAN

Young Steve Travers of Biddeford, who fought in a bout at Berlin, N. H., last Friday night, says he was up against a "ringer." He was scheduled to clash with Young Eddie Ford of Boston. Young Steve fought to the end of the route though the decision was given to Ford. After the bout the Biddeford boxer challenged his opponent to meet him in Berlin next Friday night stipulating that they should both weigh in at 122 pounds. Travers posted a forfeit with the Berlin management, but the Boston man did not cover it, and it is doubtful if the men come together again.

Braid to the twenty-fourth hole of an open tournament at the Kinmont Links, Glasgow, Scotland.

Battling Levisky, champion of the light heavyweight championship of the world, and who has been matched to meet Georges Carpentier, has been picked as the opponent for Clay Turner, the American Indian, at the next show of the Pine Tree A. C., Portland, next Monday night.

The Dover Post of the American Legion which has been running basketball and boxing in that city with great success, has decided to put a strong baseball team in the field this season and if the plans now being made go through, the Dover Legion will be represented by one of the strongest semi-pro outfits in the state.

Basketball had a wonderful season in this state the past winter, writes Editor Aldrich of Laconia, Portsmouth and Dover look to be about the best; Claremont had a fine team; and Laconia, Rochester, Concord and Berlin were good. The presence in Laconia recently in noted of George Greedy, a former basketball and basketball star at Dartmouth, now president of the Greb Company, Boston, dealers in auto supplies. Another Lake City sporting item records that William P. Frost, Laconia High school 1918, rowed now for Columbia against Yale in their junior crew race of Saturday.—Concord Patriot.

Harry Davis, former first baseman and coach of the Philadelphia Athletics who is directing the destinies of the Williams college baseball team this spring, believes that college baseball is a better preparation for the big leagues than playing in the minors. "The good college baseball player, after a four year course, is as ready for major league baseball as the average member of a Class B minor league team," says Davis. "The college man is so much readier to absorb the instruction and team play that he is usually much easier to teach."

Jesus Burckett declares that Bill Horn, the former Kents Hill star is the best pitcher they have ever had at Holy Cross. And the Purple has boasted such flinging men as Conkey, McGeehan, Spring, O'Rourke, Foley, Murray, Gill and Ryan. This is certainly high praise from a club like Jesus for the former Maine schoolboy.—Portland Express.

The recent death of Jack Highlands, Harvard pitcher, recalls to the old timers of Southeastern New Hampshire a game which he once pitched for Newmarket against Somersworth. The latter place put a professional into the field, while all the Newmarket players except Highlands were residents of the town; good men though, like Jack Scrimmell, King Holey and Brackett were in the lineup. Highlands won, holding his opponents to one scratch hit. Dr. Charles A. Morse, whose recent disappearance is a still unsolved mystery, umpired the contest.—Concord Patriot.

The boxing fans of this city are sure to get plenty of action next Friday night when Hammering Hooves and Young Gauvin will battle at Freeman's hall. Howls is so sure that he is the better man that he has promised to stop the Somersworth boy within the limit or forfeit his share of the purse.

James Barnes of St. Louis, open champion of the Southern and Western Golf Association and title holder of the P. G. A., who is going abroad to compete for the British open championship, will sail for England on May 15 on board the Finland. This is the same date on which Walter Hagen plans to leave, but in consequence of delay in booking his passage, Barnes will be unable to travel on the same boat.

What about a little action on the part of the Sunco League directors? It is now getting along towards the first of May and nothing has been done as yet towards drawing up a schedule and talking over other business for the season of 1920.

The lad who has always had a good reputation, arrived here on Tuesday and told friends that he was on the way to the beach with the car for a friend. The Concord police traced him to this city and the local police were watching out for the car and captured him when he arrived at the garage. A large number of Somersworth fans will come here on Friday evening with Young Gauvin to back him in his bout with Hammering Hooves of Woonsocket when they put on the main bout in the Fally-Belfast A. C. show. At Freeman's hall Young Gauvin is training hard for this match for he knows in Howie that he will meet a lad who is game to the core who loves to fight. There is also a big interest in the eight round bout between Young Herbert of the Navy Yard, a clever boy and Young Meehan of Portland. The latter has had more ring experience but Herbert is a boy who will bear watching for he has all of the earmarks of a coming boxer.

SHARKEY-FREIDMAN ABOUT A DRAW

Boston, April 28.—Jack Sharkey, the much touted boxer from New York, could not do better than get a draw with Abe Friedman of the same city in their 12-round bout in Meschaules building last night.

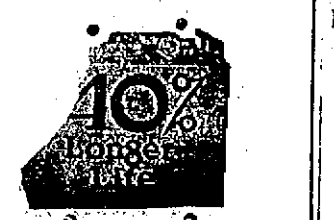

Nearly four thousand were present. Few of them realized how near they came to not seeing a battle. Shortly before the time the fighters were to enter the ring, Sharkey and his manager tried to get away with an old trick, that of objecting to the referee agreed upon.

Eddie Mack, manager of Friedman and the club also refused to stand for it. Sharkey was about to leave the building when he was prevailed on to accept Al Delmont for his third man in the ring. Sharkey and his manager had previously agreed upon Harry Edels as referee.

ROYAL ARCANUM GRAND COUNCIL MEET HERE

Delegates From All Councils in the State
 Present and Elect Portsmouth Man
 Grand Regent

The sixth biennial session of the Grand Council of Royal Arcanum of New Hampshire, was held in this city on Tuesday, with an attendance of delegates from all of the Councils in the state. There was considerable business and the annual election of officers.

The reports of the secretary and treasury showed that the Arcanum is in excellent condition financially and its membership in this state. There has been a steady increase in membership and the moral character of the order has been shown in paying the death claims of members.

Supreme Vice Regent, Carlton E.
 Hendry of New Haven, Conn., was present and he reported that that order all over the country had made a big growth and that the Arcanum was never so well off financially as at present.

At the business meeting the following officers were elected:

Grand Regent—L. E. Ewen, Portsmouth.

Grand Vice Regent—James A. Win-
 gus, Manchester.

Grand Orator—George M. Stevens,
 Dover.

First Grand Regent—W. H. Morrison, Durham.

Grand Secretary—L. D. Smith, Dover.

Grand Treasurer—A. J. Weeks, Exeter.

Grand Guide—E. M. Shaw, Claremont.

Grand Chaplain—Robert McGee, Berlin.

Grand Warder—A. G. Willard, Dover.

Grand Sentinel—Elmer Drake, Dover.

Committee on Laws—Howard O. Nelson, Portsmouth; E. G. Whitney, Dover;
 C. H. Woodward, Portsmouth.

Representatives to the Supreme Council—W. H. Morrison, Durham;
 alternate, A. J. Weeks, Portsmouth.

The newly elected officers were then installed by Supreme Vice Regent Carlton E. Hendry of New Haven.

Who afterwards addressed the Grand Council.

Tuesday evening the Supreme Vice Regent and the grand officers of the state were the guest of the Alpha Council Royal Arcanum of this city.

There was an initiation and an entertainment followed by a lunch.

sorted cake, harlequin ice cream, fruit punch and coffee.

Lieut. and Mrs. Toepfer left later on a wedding trip to New York, Philadelphia and Washington, D. C. Upon their return they will reside at 314
 Barrett avenue.

The going away party was of blue some, with white vest and hat of blue straw.

Both bride and groom are popular with their associates. The bride has been a member of the choir of the Church of the Immaculate Conception for several years. For some time she has held the position of bookkeeper at the flower shop of Robert Cap-stiel.

The groom's former home was in California and he is now connected with the Industrial Department at the local navy yard.

The couple has the sincere good wishes of hosts of friends for a happy future.

The bride's gift to the groom was a pair of gold cuff links and the groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Robert Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. H.
 Clayton, Lynn, Mass.; Miss Irene
 Haines, New York; Miss Florence
 Russell, Dover.

BRETT WILL TRAIN

 his first start of the season.
